The Academic Excellence Black Scholars House is a first-year experience living learning community that explores the interconnectedness of scholarship and personal identity across the Black diaspora within the context of the University.

- Learn to successfully navigate the university environment while embracing scholastic achievement and individual identity.
- A dedicated Academic Excellence Black Scholars House Programmer will foster community through engaging academic, social, political, and wellness programming.
- Exemplify leadership through service and building a strong community
- Develop the foundation for academic success throughout your college career.

For more information, contact Thais Bouchereau at tboucher@uci.edu